

#CommonsQuest 1: Conversation about Your Common Wealth

Welcome to the #CommonsQuest! The treasure hunt begins with a conversation. Invite your partners, friends, families, & communities to have an important conversation about your common wealth. Record an overview of your conversation in this survey. This survey will remain open until January 2, 2015.

1. What is your community's common wealth?

Consider local, regional, national, transnational, and global boundaries as well as cultural and social boundaries. Some common wealth belongs to specific groups of people. Other common wealth belongs to all humans or all life.

2. What is the most critical common wealth to claim and protect at this historic moment? Why?

3. What common wealth needs to be off limits to privatization or any other form of enclosure?

4. How can your community restore accountability for the care of your common wealth?

5. How is reclaiming the common wealth related to creating a just, livable, and peaceful future?

6. Use this space to communicate any additional insights or questions raised during your conversation.